

PHI 7340: Topics in Hist Philosophy

A number of important topics, e.g., space and time or the eternity of the world, are best considered both in immediate historical settings and across traditional historical divisions. Such topics will be considered as they are defined and redefined in ancient, medieval, and modern terms.

Credits: 3.0

Program: Philosophy