

EDU 8626: Learn Disabilities Read

The characteristics of learning disabled students, and the instruments used for identification of learning disabilities are studied. Severe language, reading, and motor disorders are discussed, and the techniques and materials used to assist learning disabled students with the reading process are presented.

Credits: 3.0

Program: Education and Counseling