

CEE 8305: Civil Engr Data Analytics

Investigation of publicly available data sources related to civil engineering applications including surveying, geotechnical, hydrological storm water management, structural, transportation and safety applications. Students will apply data visualization and analytical techniques to make more informed decisions from the data.

Credits: 3.0