

CSC 8550: Computing for Data Science

The computing parts of the interdisciplinary subject, Data Science. Topics include: data cleaning, data wrangling, visualization, time series, machine learning fundamentals. Python or similar libraries that support managing datasets. Review of current data science research papers. Students will complete a major project that demonstrates an understanding of the entire data science process.

Credits: 3.0

Program: Computing Sciences