

ECE 8340: Real-time Control & Robotics

Basics needed by engineers in the design of automation and motion control. Topics: actuators, sensors, robot fundamentals, path control, and the Forth language together with its application to real-time motion control. Laboratory work is part of the course and leads to a complete robot-based job project.

Credits: 3.0