

MAC 8282: Risk Mgmt & Assurance Serv

Business-process orientation for the modern financial statement audit based on cross-functional perspectives from auditing, accounting, and business strategy. The relationship between the financial statement audit and the assessment of client business risks, the evaluation of business controls, and the measurement of strategic and business-process performance. Case study exploration of strategic issues and the new audit methodologies used by the large accounting firms.

Credits: 3.0