

MBA 8510: Leadership & Team Building

The behavioral dimension of managerial action and decision making with emphasis on the dynamics and challenges of developing high performance teams and providing effective leadership. Exploration of business ethics, demographic diversity, motivation, communication, performance evaluation, conflict management, organizational change, and organizational learning in the global environment.

Credits: 3.0