

MBA 8542: Global Social Entrepreneurship

Course will examine the burgeoning, yet old, field that has billionaires pledging their wealth to spur innovation to solve the intractable problems of poverty and sickness among those at the bottom of the economic pyramid. Much has been written on the past 10 years, and we will endeavor to understand its history, what it has become, what it is not, how we can each connect to it, and whether/how it will shape the global economy of the future.
