

MBA 8547: Healthcare Economics

Healthcare Economics broadly exams the totality of the U.S. health care system using the tools of microeconomics to assess varying health care markets. Special attention is paid to stakeholders, particularly patients, providers, and payers. Public health care policies are examined.

Credits: 1.5

Prerequisites:

MBA 8450 and MBA 8650