

MBA 8552: Database Management

Covers the role and application of databases in organizations, data modeling using the entity-relationship and semantic object models, and the relational data model and its implementation to SQL. Lectures and articles are combined with Access to solve cases.

Credits: 3.0