MBA 8553: Telecommunications Management

Focuses on use of data communication technologies to support effective and efficient management of information in an organization. Topics covered: competing data telecommunications architectures and protocols, network topologies and technologies such as LAN, WAN, intranets and value-added networks.

Credits: 3.0