

MBA 8642: Applied Consumer Behavior

Applying principles of consumer behavior to solve marketing problems; borrows from sociology/psychology and marketing/marketing research to analyze consumers' reactions to products/services; applies learning to brand management situations; real world marketing problems (cases and articles) as examples.

Credits: 1.5

Prerequisites:

MBA 8450 and MBA 8650