

MBA 8701: Quant & Operations Analysis

Application of quantitative methods in the analysis of operational problems in business organizations, including descriptive statistics, index numbers, estimation procedures, hypothesis testing, and regression and times series analysis. Detailed attention to technological issues in operations, capacity and aggregate production planning and supply chain management.

Credits: 3.0