

MBA 8827: Sustainable RE Development

This course reflects on the principles and processes of development including land acquisition, legal, zoning, planning and approvals. An in-depth study of the sustainable development of offices, mixed use communities, residential and renovation projects. Emphasis is on understanding and evaluating through case studies the design, architecture, sustainability and financial analysis of real estate development.

Credits: 3.0

Prerequisites:

MBA 8450 and MBA 8650